SABOTAGE TIDE NOW MOUNTING

Many Countries Have New

Widespread Nazi fears of a new Allied attack against the German-held continent of Europe such as the one which a month ago exposed Nazi strengths and weaknesses at Dieppe were disclosed today as a mounting tide of sabotage throughout Adolf Hitler's conquered domains coincided with unbroken resistance by the Soviets at Stalingrad.

The Belgian news agency in London reported that Nazi occupational authorities have ordered many Belgian families to leave Ostend on a few hours' notice, indicating German fears that the Allies have chosen this once popular beach resort as their next target.

Indicates Nazi Fears

It clearly indicated also German fears that the civilian populations of the occupied lands will rise to a man in support of any invasion attempt. The Belgian families were sent to Blankenberge, north of Ostend but near the coast, leaving their furniture and belongings at the disposal of the Nazis.

This development came in the wake of a wave of sabotage which embraced Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia, Holland, Denmark, Belgium, France and Germany itself—with explosions, fires, derailments and acts of hostility to the Nazi occupational forces which already have resulted in execution of 116 additional patriots in Paris alone.

PA NEW OBSERVES

There will be a number of new pastors in pulpits in New Castle and vicinity on Sunday, result of assignments made by the recent Erie Conference of the Methodist church. Changes made in pastorates are effective Sunday. Several pastors who have been in New Castle for some years will also occupy new pulpits Sunday as a result of the transfers.

Quite a large number in the huge crowd at the football game at Taggart stadium last night, got a ducking. A sudden shower of rain descended on the crowd about the end of the first quarter.

It is interesting to take a fleeting inventory of the scrap iron being taken through the city these days in trucks, for use in the war effort: furniture and automobile parts, lawn mowers, etc.

Suggestion has been made that the City of New Castle could do its part toward contributing to the scrap drive of the nation. Down in

Allied Bombers Again Smash At Jap Bases; Ground Fighting Lull

By LEE VAN ATTA
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

GEN. DOUGLAS MacARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, In Australia, Sept. 19.—Allied bombers smashed again at Japanese invasion bases at Buna, Rabaul, Lae and Salamaua as a lull developed in the ground fighting on New Guinea. Heavy bombers, presumably Flying Fortresses, carried out successful night attacks on the New Britain island base at Rabaul, a commune from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters reported today.

Huge fires were started and the flames were still visible when the Allied planes were 50 miles away on the journey home.

Great Fires Started

Great fires were started also at Lae and Salamaua, on the northeast shore of New Guinea. The airports at these points are believed to

Canadian Corvette Sinks German Sub After 24-Hour Chase

(International News Service)

OTTAWA, Sept. 19.—A grim game of hide-and-seek between the Canadian corvette Assiniboine and a German submarine in the fog-shrouded North Atlantic which lasted for 24 hours, ended in the ramming and sinking of the U-boat, it was disclosed today by Canadian naval authorities.

The date or exact location of the battle was not revealed, but the tale of the seamen who "slugged it out" in murderous cross-fire, sometimes at such close range that the Germans and Canadians could see each other's features, was an added laurel to Canadian courage, which set an all-time high in the commando raid on Dieppe.

Contact was made with the enemy submarine as the corvette, attempting to round up some stragglers in a convoy, reached them, only to see one of the ships plunging to the bottom.

For some reason the submarine did not dive but chose to fight it out on the surface, her deck guns taking effective toll and starting several fires on the small Canadian patrol ship.

Captured crew members of the sub thought they were going to be shot by the Canadians and shook hands and said goodbye to the first group of five taken top-side for exercise the day after the battle. The Nazi sailors also expressed amazement when they found that white bread was included in their fare, and they marveled at the free use of fresh water for drinking and washing.

Anti-Inflation Legislation Is Being Rushed

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Congressional leaders today saw victory in their drive for enactment of anti-inflation legislation to meet the "You do it or I will" mandate of President Roosevelt.

Both senate and house banking committees approved bills which, despite sharp differences, make Mr. Roosevelt the arbiter of both increases in wages and prices of farm products for the entire nation.

The two houses of congress are expected to consider their own bills simultaneously next week, with the ever-present possibility that snarls will develop to delay final action.

The senate bill carries the sweeping declaration that no employer shall pay, nor employee receive, wages or salaries "in contravention of the regulations promulgated by the president under this joint resolution."

The president is forbidden gener-

Third Coral Sea Battle Possible

Japanese Forces May Decide Upon Another Naval Effort

ALL OFFICIALS ARE SILENT ON QUESTION

By JOSEPH A. BORS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—The third battle of the Coral Sea loomed today as a momentary possibility between Japanese forces goaded by a string of defeats and American fighting men who have been battling fiercely to hold and extend their "second front" gains in the Solomons.

Officially the navy has maintained silence since the announcement two days ago that U. S. Marines were holding their positions following heavy attacks by reinforced Japanese forces on Guadalcanal Island. This silence indicated there has been no recent change in the situation.

Tenseless In Air

However, there was an air of tenseless in official quarters which intimated that fresh developments were anticipated, possibly in the form of a Nipponese counter-attack in force by land, sea and air. Such an attack undoubtedly would precipitate another engagement perhaps larger in scope than the two previous Coral Sea battles which ended in smashing victories for American land, sea and air units.

Another large-scale victory in the

Curfew Regime For Paris After 116 Executions

Nazi Authorities

(International News Service)

LONDON, Sept. 19.—Paris was on a two-day curfew regime today following an announcement that 116 "Communist terrorists" had been executed in reprisal for attacks on German troops and occupational authorities.

Reports also reached London of other executions by the Nazis throughout occupied Europe.

Theaters and other places of amusement in Paris were ordered to remain closed Saturday and Sunday in a proclamation by General Otto Stuehnagel, commander of the Paris garrison.

The proclamation also forbids any non-German civilian to leave his residence from between 4 p. m. and midnight Sunday.

The curfew regulations were invoked, it was said, to prevent "planned Communist meetings." Czechoslovakian circles in London reported that former Czech officers were being executed almost daily, and that more than 50 had been put to death during the past month on

Diplomatic Showdown Sought With Japan On Treatment Of Americans

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—The United States today sought a diplomatic showdown with Japan over the treatment of prisoners of war and interned nationals.

There were strong indications in official quarters that this government may resort to retaliatory action if Japan fails to live up to its promise to respect the rules of the Geneva convention governing the treatment of war prisoners.

The State Department is awaiting a reply from Tokyo to its formal demand that the United States be advised "urgently" whether the Japanese government intends to grant full reciprocity in the treatment of war prisoners and interned nationals.

The American demand was prompted by Japanese refusal to permit a Red Cross vessel to carry food supplies to American war prisoners and interned nationals in Japanese

Surgeons To Make Effort To Remove Needle From Heart

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 19.—Physicians concentrated today on building up the strength of three-year-old Eleanor Hughes in preparation for a rare and delicate operation in which they will attempt to remove a sewing needle from the child's heart.

With her golden hair brushed back from her forehead, Eleanor lies beneath an oxygen tent in which she was placed yesterday following a 90-minute operation in which surgeons probed vainly for the inch-long metal sliver that might mean her death.

Cocking a quizzical eye skyward today at noon, Numa P. Vidal, director of the bomb demonstration at Taggart Stadium said that lacking any "fifth column" tactics by the weather man the show would go on tonight at eight o'clock.

Everything is in readiness. Early today crews began the work of building the structures that will be used in the bomb demonstration, laying what electric lines are needed and preparing for the last detail of tonight's spectacle.

Parade First

At eight o'clock the parade of Civilian Defense Workers will take place under the supervision of the Parade Committee. This consists of Edward D. Western Pennsylvania Aliens Taken In Raids

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 19.—Sweeping through 13 western Pennsylvania cities during the night, the Federal Bureau of Investigation today announced that 32 German and Italian nationals have been taken into custody.

Joseph E. Thornton, director of the 32 persons arrested were from Pittsburgh, two of whom were "quite wealthy." Thornton, however, declined to reveal any names of those jailed to await a hearing before the enemy alien control board.

It was learned, however, that FBI agents, making the exhaustive roundup, uncovered either guns, cameras, short wave receiving sets or propaganda which had been mailed to the persons arrested.

"A number of them had pictures of Hitler, Goering and Goebbels," Thornton said. "We found no evidence that they were redistributing

Price Of News Will Increase Next Monday

Paper Will Cost Customers Four Cents Per Day Next Week

Due to the increased cost of production, and the decreased revenue from advertising, The News company has been forced to increase the price of the paper, which will be four cents per issue, starting on Monday, September 21. The cost per week when delivered by carrier will be 24 cents.

When the rates were raised last December from 15 to 18 cents per week by carrier, the carrier boys received the entire amount of this increase. The current increase in the price of the paper will be split between the carrier and News company.

The company regrets that it is forced to take this step because it does not feel like placing an added burden on the citizens of the community, but rising costs of production with a corresponding falling off in the volume of advertising makes it imperative.

Yearly subscription rates for out-of-town subscribers will not be affected by the change in prices at this time.

MOSCOW, Sept. 19.—The Nazis launched a frenzied new attempt to smash their way into embattled Stalingrad today as Soviet women, expert in the use of deadly weapons, joined the savage conflict at the side of their men.

MOSCOW, Sept. 19.—Smashing back at the German invaders, Soviet defenders of Stalingrad today forced the enemy to retreat from positions in the city's northwestern outskirts.

Strong Nazi forces had penetrated the Soviet lines in that area yesterday, but the Red army forces, under orders of Joseph Stalin to take the offensive, attacked repeatedly and recovered much of the lost ground, an official communique stated.

Four-Ton Bombs Dropped On Nazis

Largest Bombs Used By British

Dusseldorf Among Towns Devastated By Huge New Bombs

MANY FACTORIES ARE PULVERIZED

By JOHN E. LEE
LONDON, Sept. 19.—The biggest and most destructive bombs ever used in warfare—great "four-tonners"—levelled a good square mile of German war plants on Karlsruhe and Dusseldorf, the air ministry revealed today.

The air ministry announcement was accompanied by photographs which clearly revealed the tremendous damage wrought in the crowded industrial sections of the two Reich cities.

Up to this time it had been supposed that the biggest bombs in use were the two-ton "blockbusters" which were credited with the destructive power to literally level a square city block.

The air ministry announcement said 270 acres were laid waste in Karlsruhe and 370 in the heavier raid on Dusseldorf. This is equivalent to a total area of a square mile—more than 300 ordinary city blocks.

Karlsruhe was bombed the night of September 2 with what the air ministry described as a "strong force." Eight British planes failed to return indicating an attacking force of 150 to 200 aircraft.

Dusseldorf was blasted the night of September 10 by an estimated force of more than 600 bombers. The air ministry described the raiding force as "powerful" and announced that 31 had failed to return.

So far this month the RAF has made nine smashing raids on German industrial centers, but apparently only Karlsruhe and Dusseldorf bore the brunt of the mighty new "four-ton super bombs."

The target area in Dusseldorf was south of a line running from the main Rhine bridge to the railroad station which was hit and heavily damaged. The photographs showed that factories hit included the Deutsche Rohrenwerke steel tube factory, the International Harvester company, the Ruhrstahl and the Oberbiller steel plants.

Many warehouses in the dock area were pulverized and then the ruins set ablaze by the more than 100,000 incendiaries dropped over the ruined areas.

The 270 acres blasted in Karlsruhe did not include heavy damage to the inland harbor, where a storage depot burned nine days after the attack. Study of the aerial photographs showed severe damage throughout the city's manufacturing areas.

ALLIED BOMBERS AGAIN SMASH AT JAPANESE BASES

have been long since knocked out of commission but the bases are still used as supply concentration points for Buna which is opposite Port Moresby on the narrow tip of the island.

The attack on Buna was directed at the Japanese fleet of landing barges, and reconnaissance reports said at least 27 had been beached after suffering heavy damage from Allied bombing and strafing attacks.

Buna, which is 150 miles across the island from the Allied base at Port Moresby has been under almost daily attack recently to relieve the pressure the Japanese invasion forces are exerting on the Australian forces fighting on the south slopes of the Owen Stanley mountains.

Ground Activity Limited

Today the ground activity was reported limited to light patrol action.

No enemy attacks were reported from any area of the southwest Pacific but the absence of Japanese activity was widely regarded as a lull before the storm.

There have been reports of formidable Japanese naval forces, including battleships, moving from home bases towards the south.

Allied military experts have expressed confidence that Port Moresby cannot be taken from the land alone, and it was considered likely that the enemy may be planning a sea-borne invasion to supplement the present land drive.

It is generally expected also that the Japanese will make an early effort to recapture their lost bases in the Solomons where U. S. Marines have repulsed all counter-offensives.

But it was considered doubtful that the Japanese have sufficient airpower in this area to attempt simultaneous assaults on both New Guinea and the Solomons.

SOVIET FORCES SMASHING BACK IN STALINGRAD

mass air raids as artillery pounded the Soviet positions from emplacements on heights outside the inner defense lines.

Tanks were massed against narrow sectors, said dispatches from the front.

Hurl Hundred Tanks
At one point on the northwest a hundred Nazi tanks were thrown against the Russian lines and 26 were smashed to bits by the Soviet artillery batteries.

A later report from the flaming front said Soviet forces drove the enemy from a vital height controlling the Volga after a bloody five-hour battle.

Recapture of the strategic position, then made it possible for the Russians to re-establish points that had previously been lost to the Germans in adjoining sectors.

The enemy, thwarted in the frontal drive west of Stalingrad, was exerting tremendous pressure on the Russian flanks north and south of the Volga city, and was reported to have reached the Volga at one point on the north.

Fight In Streets
Later reports said the Nazis were dislodged from the town but then it was conceded that a large force of tanked infantry fought their way into the streets of the north-west suburbs and consolidated their positions.

In day long battles, marked by hand-to-hand fighting, the Red army forces slowly drove the Germans from the positions gained by heavy sacrifice of men and equipment.

"Fighting continued last night in the Stalingrad and Mordok areas," the communiqué stated. "There were no important changes on other fronts."

"After repeated attempts by the enemy to capture Soviet positions near an important objective in the northwestern outskirts of Stalingrad the Germans were repulsed and then forced to retreat."

Reinforcements From Siberia
Reinforcements were reported continuing to pour across the Volga from Siberian training camps, and fresh divisions were said to be enroute from other sections of the front to strengthen the weary army of Stalingrad.

The Communist party newspaper

Pravda reported that German Field Marshal Fedor Von Bock is getting constant air reinforcements from western Europe and North Africa.

"But every yard of German advance is heaped high with enemy corpses," Pravda declared grimly.

A strong Soviet offensive was reported to have been launched Friday in the Voronezh area with the apparent purpose of relieving the Nazi pressure on Stalingrad.

These Russian troops today were reported still holding the initiative as they advanced slowly both north and south along the west bank of the Don River.

Operations Developing

And today further Soviet offensive operations were reported developing at Leningrad and on the Kalinin front northwest of Moscow.

"The enemy is being pressed back at Leningrad and Kalinin in active operations," declared a supplement to the communiqué.

The Red fleet air arm in the Baltic raided a Nazi-held port in the northern sea causing six big explosions and five fires, the communiqué added.

Axis acknowledgement of the stubborn and determined character of the Russian defense of Stalingrad came from the Axis-flavored Vichy radio which said Soviet forces were "fanatically defending" the beleaguered town.

Women Battling

"Women are battling in the streets besides the regular troops and members of the peoples army, Vichy declared."

The battered Volga city was a smoking ruin as a reported thousand Nazi planes ranged over the Russian positions, blasting them with rubble and German air-borne "commander" parachute troops dropped behind Soviet positions that had withstood repeated enemy frontal assaults.

As Stalingrad underwent its trial by fire, the Red army forces loosed a smashing counter-attack on the Voronezh front. Attacks on two sectors south of the town penetrated Nazi positions on the west bank of the Don River and accounted for 1,500 enemy dead on two sectors.

But the vital battle raged on the outskirts of Stalingrad where the fourth week of siege nears its end.

charges of fomenting disorders and demonstrations against the Germans and carrying on acts of sabotage.

Slavs Executed
A Reuters dispatch from the Swiss border quoted the newspaper Neue Zürcher Nachrichten as estimating that 2,987 Slavs had been executed by the Nazis in the 12-month period ending in August.

Moscow reported that anti-Nazi demonstrations had been put down in Hamburg, Königsberg, Dusseldorf and other bombed German towns following the recent heavy raids by British and Russian bombing squadrons.

This Soviet report was supported by a Reuters dispatch that 14 persons were executed in Karlsruhe on September 14 on charges of fomenting Communism and listening to foreign radio broadcasts.

Karlsruhe was heavily raided by the RAF September 2 when Britain's new 6,000-pound bombs blasted 270 acres of the city's industrial districts.

Yugoslav circles in London reported that Hitler's gestapo had executed 20 Croat hostages in the village of Buzo where two German soldiers were recently killed. The same sources reported that a state of emergency had been declared in Zagreb and Prigorje Province, resulting in a virtual state of martial law.

DIPLOMATIC SHOWDOWN WITH JAPAN

erland, the State Department has now called to Tokyo's attention that this country is carrying out in full its obligations under the Geneva convention with respect to Japanese interned nationals in the United States.

The American government has proposed that an International Red Cross representative in Manila be permitted to receive funds from this country for the purchase of the food supplies to which Americans held in the Philippines are entitled.

If Japan refuses this request, and otherwise fails to grant full reciprocity in the treatment accorded war prisoners, it is considered likely that the American government will withdraw some of the privileges now extended interned Japanese in this country.

William Henry Rhodes, who made his home with his daughter, Mrs. J. C. Fulton, of near Portersville, died Friday afternoon at four o'clock.

Short funeral services are to be held at the Glenn funeral home in Prospect this evening at eight o'clock, with Rev. George Cheeseman in charge. The body will be taken to Dunkirk, N. Y., where services will be held in his home community, followed by burial in Forest Hill cemetery.

Mr. Rhodes was born in Cornwall, England, in 1866, and came to this country when five years of age. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Fulton and Mrs. E. C. Goehle, the latter of Buffalo, N. Y., and two grandchildren, William and Ruth Fulton.

Mrs. Chester H. McMillen.
Mrs. Alice McMillen, aged 53, wife of Chester H. McMillen, R. D. 4, Harlansburg road (formerly of Wilmington avenue), died Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Pittsburgh Presbyterian hospital following an operation after a long illness.

Mrs. McMillen was born in Sharon, on September 21, 1888, a daughter of Frank J. and Emma Williams Smith. She was a member of the First Baptist church and of Winodausis.

Surviving, in addition to her husband, are one son, Robert McMillen of Clare, Mich., and three sisters, Mrs. H. L. Dean of the Harlansburg road, Mrs. Floyd Abbey of Cherry Creek, N. Y., and Mrs. E. J. Boylan of Cleveland.

The body is now at the Joseph B. Leyde mortuary, Highland at Winter, where friends will be received this evening from 7 to 9 and Sunday afternoon and evening from 3:30 to 5 and 7 to 9 o'clock.

Funeral services will be conducted from the mortuary Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Rev. Oliver W. Hurst, pastor of the First Baptist church, in charge.

Davis Funeral
Funeral services for James Davis, 1611 Wilcox avenue, were conducted Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the A. Darrell Burke funeral home, 319 North Jefferson street, with Rev. Thomas J. Jones, pastor of the First Congregational church, in charge.

During services, two selections were sung by Mrs. Griffith Thomas, Lewis J. Davis, David P. Lewis, William Powell, Mrs. Griffith Thomas, Mrs. William N. Johns, Mrs. Ben Fowler and Mrs. Richard Johns, under the direction of Griffith Jones. This group also sang the Welsh resurrection song at the grave.

Palbearers were William Powell, David Lewis, Lewis J. Davis, Jacob Hettick, George Cartwright and Robert Colquhoun.

Interment was in Graceland cemetery.

Mowrey Funeral Time
Funeral services for George Mowrey of Hillsville will be held Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock from the Offutt funeral home, North Mercer street, Dr. D. L. Ferguson, pastor of Highland United Presbyterian church, will officiate. Interment will be in Graceland cemetery.

A son, Harry G. Mowrey of Philadelphia, arrived in this city this morning. Mr. Mowrey is also survived by a sister, Mrs. Henrietta Nice, and by a grandson.

Friends will be received at the funeral home Sunday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

THIRD CORAL SEA BATTLE POSSIBLE

Coral Sea area could prove a decisive factor which might leave American and United Nations forces virtually undisputed masters of the southwest Pacific.

It was recalled that in the original Coral Sea campaign, U. S. naval task forces aided by Australian based planes sank and damaged 37 Japanese ships and destroyed more than 100 enemy planes.

The second so-called Coral Sea battle occurred late in August when strong Japanese naval units made a "reconnaissance in force" in the Tulagi-Guadalcanal area and were sent reeling back after two enemy carriers, a battleship, four cruisers and other enemy vessels were badly mauled.

ally to reduce wages between the highest January 1 to September 15 level, but he may order a cut to remedy a "gross inequity."

The house bill, however, attempts to write the "little steel" formula into law. It forbids blocking of wage increases 15 percent above the January 1, 1941, wage until the president issues a proclamation. After this is issued it makes the president the arbiter.

Replying to the president's "ultimatum," the senate committee wrote in an amendment requiring the president to issue a wage and price stabilization order by November 1—just before the election.

The president won a partial victory over the "farm bloc." Both committees rejected the "farm bloc" demand that farm wages be included in arriving at parity prices—a formula which would raise the parity ceilings.

does not move outside the stadium. Following the parade, County Controller Frank W. Hill who is secretary of the Lawrence County Council of Defense will induct the air raid wardens, auxiliary firemen and policemen, and the other defense workers, en masse. This in itself will be a spectacle as hundreds of men and women take the oath.

Bomb Demonstration
The bomb demonstration will follow the mass induction and nothing short of an actual bomb raid can provide the thrills of this one. High explosive bombs, incendiary bombs, gas bombs, all will be used. Buildings will be blown apart, others will be burned and still others infected with gas. Overhead, Pinley Wilson will be diving at the stadium and all the time the lights of the stadium will be blacked out.

Then come the rescue squads, first aid squads, demolition and decontamination squads, road repair and utility repair squads, all of them.

SILVER ANNIVERSARY FOR THE EDWARD RYANS

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. J. Ryan, of 918 Rose avenue, appropriately observed their silver wedding anniversary on Friday, Sept. 18, at their residence with a family gathering.

On two previous dates, however, Mrs. Ryan was hostess at delightfully informal parties, when she entertained as guests her associates of the O. B. F. club and the Loyal Band class of the Third U. P. church, which also proved a medium of observing the approaching event.

Last evening Mr. and Mrs. Ryan spent the time leisurely with members of their family, and they were the recipients of many lovely gifts as additional mementos of the happy celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. Ryan have spent practically all their married lives in New Castle, and they have a host of friends who will read with interest of their silver wedding day.

Mr. Ryan is affiliated with The New Castle News company as manager of the circulation department.

N. C. HOSPITAL NURSES ALUMNAE HAS MEETING

New Castle Hospital Alumnae members gathered in the New Castle Hospital Nurses Home on a recent date, with president, Margaret Carrigan, presiding, this marking their initial opening session of the fall season.

Sister Della Rose and Sister Mary Lucien, the new directors and their instructress in nursing art respectively, were introduced to the assembly at this time, and they spoke briefly.

Plans were made for a party on September 30 to be held in the Nurses Home in honor of those in the graduating class. Chairman of entertainment will be Mrs. Olive Keys.

Dinner Club Meets

Mrs. Fred Beck, of Walnut street, entertained her dinner club, at her home recently.

A splendid dinner was served at noon, by the hostess, who was assisted by Mrs. Ralph Cook. Covers were laid for twelve. Fall flowers decorated the table.

After a short business session, contest games were played, with prizes in the form of war stamps, being awarded to Mrs. Milton Book and Mrs. Fred Kenehan.

Mrs. Ed. Elaine will entertain the club at her home on October 21.

1914 BOOK CLUB HAS LUNCHEON AT CASTLETON

Opening meeting for the year of the 1914 Book Club was in the form of a luncheon at The Castleton Friday at one o'clock. Following there was discussion of plans for the year and election of officers.

Places were set for 12, including an out-of-town guest, Mrs. Pearl King, of Philadelphia, who is visiting at the home of Mrs. O. H. P. Green, Richelleu avenue.

Retiring officers conducted the business session until election of new officers, who then took charge. Those elected are: president, Mrs. W. G. Eckles; vice president, Mrs. W. P. Feich; treasurer, Mrs. John Foster.

First regular meeting of the year, when exchange of books will begin, will be October 2, at the home of Mrs. Harry Urmon, 333 Berger Place.

Receives Wedding News

Mrs. Chauncey Davis, of West Washington street, this city, has received word that Miss Anna K. Harrison, daughter of Mrs. Katherine Harrison, Philadelphia, was quietly married to John C. Bianca, on Wednesday, at noon, at Trinity Episcopal church, Collingsdale, with the pastor, Rev. Reynolds, officiating.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will be at home to their friends at 509 Collingsdale avenue, Collingsdale.

The bride is a Past State Grand Mistress of the Ladies Loyal Orange Institution, and is well known in this district having visited in her capacity, the local Ladies Orange Lodge, and other lodges in western Pennsylvania. She has often been a house guest of Mrs. Davis.

Fellowship Group

Women's Fellowship group of Calvary Gospel Tabernacle met in the home of Mrs. Myrtle Jenkins, East Washington street, Thursday evening. A prayer and song period was conducted by the president, Mrs. Melba Clark, to open the meeting.

Short talks were given about "Women in the Bible" by Mrs. Blanche Linton, Mrs. Helen Anderson and Mrs. Roy Bovard. Afterwards, plans were made to pack missionary barrels and for the winter's work. Lunch was served by the hostess.

Next meeting will be Thursday, October 15, in the home of Mrs. Frances Weir, Adams street.

Willing Workers

Willing Workers class members of Central Presbyterian church met Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Margaret Woodings, West Leasure avenue.

Games and contests were enjoyed by the group. Co-hostesses were Mrs. S. S. Wilson and Miss Eva Johnson.

Next meeting will be held the third Thursday of October.

DANCE PARTY SURPRISE FOR 'CHRIS' GIANCOTTI

Miss Christina Giancotti, former drum major of the senior high school band, who leaves next week to enter the University of Pittsburgh as a freshman, was surprised with a party of her friends at the home of Miss Jean Tribby, Vogan avenue, Friday evening after the football game, for a party.

With 55 guests present, the garage had been turned into an impromptu dance hall, where the young people enjoyed dancing to phonograph music until a late hour.

A highlight of the gala evening was the presentation of a lovely gift to the guest of honor. Special guests present were her mother, Mrs. Jennie Giancotti and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Douglas.

At the close of the evening of dancing and a variety of other diversions, refreshments were served by Mrs. W. M. Tribby and Mrs. David Riley.

CRADLE ROLL PARTY AT KENNADAY HOME

Members of the graduating class, active members of the Cradle Roll department of Highland United Presbyterian church and their mothers gathered at the home of Mrs. Clinton R. Kennaday, Gardner road, Hickory township, for a party Friday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock. There were 30 persons in attendance.

In charge of the event were Miss Ethel D. Moore, superintendent of the department, Mrs. E. L. Thompson and Mrs. Kennaday.

Games and a lolly-pop hunt were featured during the hours, after which delicious refreshments were served and favors were given to the children.

A special guest was Mrs. J. D. McCulloch of Newville, Pa.

CHILD GUIDANCE CLUB HAS OPENING MEETING

Mrs. Frank N. Merrill, Jr., of Fairmont avenue, was hostess to the opening fall meeting of the Child Guidance club Thursday evening.

"Safety in the Home" as it pertains to children, was the topic of the study paper for the evening, read by Mrs. Dudley Arnold.

The business session, in charge of the president, Mrs. E. V. Martin, was followed by a social period during which refreshments were served by the hostess.

Miss Helen Maxwell will be guest speaker at the next meeting, which will be October 8, at the home of Mrs. Irvin Robins, Euclid avenue.

Crespo - O'Layer

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph O'Layer, Jr., are at home in Wampum following their return from their wedding trip to New York City.

Their marriage took place September 5 in St. Nicholas Greek Catholic church with Rev. Fr. Philip Grushetsky officiating.

The bride is the former Miss Sarah Crespo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Crespo of Wampum. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph O'Layer, also of Wampum, with whom the newlyweds will make their home.

Miss Margaret Sovich, of Clairton, attended the bride for her wedding, and Fred Crespo, as best man for the groom.

Friendly Friends Club

Friday evening the Friendly Friends club were pleasantly entertained in the home of Mrs. Harry Cook, on O'Brian avenue, with tables of 500 claiming attention. The honor prizes fell to Mrs. Margaret Reese and Mrs. Frank Calvert at conclusion of play.

A delectable repast was served as the closing feature, the season's appointments predominating.

Plans were made to meet Friday evening, Oct. 2, with Mrs. Frank Dute, on Neshannock avenue, for a similar event.

N. D. B. Club

With all members present, N. D. B. club was entertained Friday evening by Mrs. J. F. Gehrkens, of the Mt. Jackson road, at bridge. Three tables were in play. Mrs. Ray Horsman received high score award, and Mrs. Ernest Richeal held the gallop.

The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Horsman in serving lunch later in the evening.

October 2 meeting will be at the home of Mrs. R. M. Barnes, West Clayton street.

KEEP IT TO YOURSELF

THE old gag about the three means of communication—telephone, telegraph, and tell-a-woman—has been perpetuated by a few chronically garrulous members of the fair sex, but the probability is that in the main it is a libel. Who are supposed to be the chief offenders in leaks of vital war information? Men. According to all the mystery stories—and not a few official reports—a woman is often the undoing of an indiscreet officer, but the responsibility is his.

The young women who have volunteered for the WAACS and the WAVES and the new WAFS are likely to be at least as tight-lipped as their brothers in arms. It is goodbye to glamor now, as Squadron Officer Kathleen Hunt of the British Auxiliary Air Force has told the officer candidates of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps at Fort Des Moines.

In the hands of these women rests the security of the nation just as truly as it rests in the hands of the men in the nation's armed forces. Some of them may have thrilling adventures. Exciting secrets may be revealed to them. But the raconteur impulse must be resisted. There will be plenty of time after the war is over to indulge in rumor, report and reminiscence.

The same goes for civilians. A carelessly dropped word by a defense worker may open the way to sabotage and cost the lives of many persons. A rumor, emanating from Axis fifth columnists, may be picked up and spread to the detriment of national morale. It's an old trick to arouse discontent and fear by fabricating plausible but groundless stories of epidemics, favoritism, disasters. The distinguishing mark of these yarns is their conclusion—that the facts are being suppressed but the narrator has inside knowledge of their truth.

Discretion may or may not be the better part of valor, but it certainly is a very important part of the war on the home front.

GOOD MAN FOR A TOUGH TASK

One of the toughest jobs, military or civilian, yet produced by the present war is that just presented to William M. Jeffers, the job of organizing and administering the government's efforts to solve the rubber shortage.

The post of administrator is an outgrowth of the Baruch Committee's report, which roundly condemned the bumbling and blundering at Washington that have messed up the rubber program, and which urged the vesting of all rubber administrative responsibilities in one person.

That Mr. Jeffers has no special knowledge in the field of rubber need be no handicap to him. For his post of administrator, no rubber technician or head of a rubber corporation is needed. What is required is a hard-driving, fast-thinking executive, without prior commitments or prejudices in favor of this or that method of rubber production and with an eye single to the main goal: to keep the rubber supply going.

Mr. Jeffers appears to have the requisite qualifications. He has shown exceptional ability in his railroad career. He is faced now with probably the toughest problem ever placed before him, that of conserving what rubber we have and producing new rubber as quickly as possible. Full success in this job will help incalculably in winning the war.

SAVE YOUR OWN BACON

For purely selfish reasons, if not other, every American citizen should become a participant in the war against fire. Shortage of materials and labor will make it difficult and in some cases impossible to build homes which fire has destroyed. And the same thing will be true of businesses, which are not on the brief "essential-to-the-war" list issued by the government.

The organizations whose job it is to prevent fire are doing better work than ever. The National Board of Fire Underwriters, for example, is doing an invaluable and extensive fire protection work, without charge, for the Navy, the Army, and for many important industries. Progressive cities have expanded both professional and volunteer fire-fighting departments. Civilian defense activity stresses fire prevention and control. But, these groups simply cannot do it all. They can't make certain that every home, every office, and every factory is as free of fire hazards as possible, and is adequately equipped to fight fire if it breaks out. The public at large must help.

There's no mystery to fire prevention in the home. Such hazards as accumulation of periodicals, old clothes and furniture in basements, closets and attics can easily be eliminated. So can most other hazards—improperly stored inflammable liquids, frayed lamp wiring, defective heating appliances, etc. In industry, management should see to it that effective fire-fighting equipment is provided—and that all workers are trained in its use. That costs little, and it may pay vast dividends. Fire destroys materials, money and labor that are vitally needed for the war effort. Fire, therefore, is on the side of our enemies. Fight it!

War styles have not become pronounced except that veils of secrecy are being generally worn these days.

This country once thrived on hog and hominy and licked all its enemies, and if necessary it can do it again.

It will be a cold winter in many homes, according to announced plans for fuel oil rationing, but it will be colder in Russia.

Crops in America are 13 per cent higher than in any previous year. Another thing that America does better than the Axis is eat.

The best answer to criticism of American plane types is their performance—they have destroyed twice as many Axis planes as they have lost.

Size of American expeditionary forces, now totaling more than 600,000 men, will be multiplied many times, it is announced. And every load will add immeasurably to the woes of the Axis.

The Parent Problem

By Gary C. Myers, Ph. D.

TRAIN CHILD TO UTILIZE WASTE

As I have gone about observing hundreds of elementary classrooms throughout the United States, I have been impressed with the resourcefulness of teachers in leading children to make things from waste materials to be found in almost every home. Too, there are ever so many mothers who are very resourceful in this direction.

Here are a few suggestions:
Oil cloth and linoleum can be used in covering table top, stool and other play furniture; stuffed animals, tray cloth, doll bib, rain cape, poster work and decorations, book-mark, book cover, display board, not dish mat, block print, bean bag, costumes.

Bottles (large mouthed)—As containers for animal and plant specimens, as plant and flower vases.
Seeds—For counting and classifying, planting and studying germination and growth; horse chestnuts, acorns and English walnuts into animals, doll dishes and toys; coconut shells for drums and bowls; pine cones for making animals, birds and containers for such for birds in winter; gourds into bird houses and bowls.

Other Uses
Collar Buttons—As handles and knobs on doll furniture.
Shoe Laces—As draw strings for scrap bags and for stringing and lacing toys.
Poster—To paste on cardboard and cut into jigsaw puzzle pictures.
Cereal Box (square)—For making toy furniture, radio, grandfather clock, waste basket.

Cereal Box (cylindrical)—In construction of windmill, lighthouse, silo, water tower, oil truck, tank car or doll carriage.

Paper plates—Umbrella, large hat by gluing cup in center of plate, clock face, wheels.

Milk Bottle Top—Headlight for engine or automobile, play money, clock face, floats for small toys, wheels for toys, toy radio dial.

Spools—For wheels, pulleys, smoke stack, handles for jumping rope, bubble blower, knobs, legs on toy furniture.

Button Molds—Top, wheels, doll face, eyes for doll and animal, standard for toy tree, lamp, hat stand.

Solving Parent Problems
Q. Is there a good way for a parent to find out if her child under five has developed about as far as the average normal child his age?

A. Yes, there is. Being a physician myself, I have prepared a chart for this purpose. To be had by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope. Please indicate the exact age of the child. Do not expect, however, to be able to arrive at anything more than a rough estimate of your child's development. Only a trained physician can rate his I. Q. Even he can make serious errors.

The World and the Mud Puddles

THE WAR MOVES ON

In growing numbers along the distant battlefronts of the world, the Yanks are coming. American airmen are attacking Rome's supply lines on the wind-blown North African desert. Blasting German-held objectives in France in the first all-American raids of this war, dealing blows to the Japanese strongholds in China, and have joined the biggest Commando raid yet made on the continent of Europe.

American forces are protecting the strategic outpost of Iceland, maintaining supply routes running through India to China—the sole lifeline remaining between the Chinese and the outside world—and with hard-hitting attacks, are wrestling vital footholds from the Japanese in the Pacific.

In fact, as well as in name, it is a world-wide war that the United Nations are waging in Europe and Asia and upon the seven seas against two ruthless powers, fanatically obsessed with a belief in their right to conquer and rule the world. To that end, they years ago transformed their entire nations into military machines dedicated to conquest by blackmail and threats if possible, and by force if necessary. With unsparring thoroughness, they organized their resources in manpower, in capital, in the physical wealth of mines, forests and fields to forge an entire country into a weapon of destruction. At the same time, they vigorously carried on a campaign to lull the democracies into a false sense of security. By such means, the enemy gained time to arm, to strike when and where it pleased him, and to win the advantage of the initiative.

That the United Nations face the harder task, there is little denying. But with more and more of America's forces moving into action, the Axis is due to sustain increasingly violent blows. And once the United Nations established world-wide coordinated planning, in strategy and the production and distribution of war materials, our victory will be certain.

Bible Thought For Today

Upon the wicked He shall rain snares, fire and brimstone, and an horrible tempest; this shall be the portion of their cup.—Psalm 116.

Hints On Etiquette

When walking on the street or in a crowd, never carry an umbrella or a stick carelessly so that it may strike or poke another.

It takes courage to face life these days if you are not thinking of others besides yourself.

ONE WAY TO AMUSE YOURSELF
Were the following towns named after automobiles or vice versa?
Lincoln, Ill. and Ind.; Cadillac, Mich.; La Salle, Ill.; Packard, Mich.; Buick, Colo. and Mo.; Graham, Ind.; Hudson, Ind.; Mercury, Tex.; Nash, N. D.; Chrysler, Ala.; De Soto, Fla.; Dodge, Mass.; Pontiac, Mich.; Plymouth, Ind.; Chevrolet, Ky.; Ford, Ind. and Kan.; Austin, Ind.

So far we have not heard of any mechanic who took his nose apart to see what makes it run.

A local woman is somewhat precise in her home everything matches all occasions. For instance, when her husband's folks are company, she served the dinner on her cracked dishes.

The boss is not always right, but he's always the boss.

Oh, you won't be any poorer if you smile along the way, and your lot will not be harder for the kindly things you say. Don't imagine you are wasting time for others that you spend; you can arise to wealth and glory, and still pause to be a friend.—Sunshine.

Experts differ, and after reading what they have to say it is restful to fall back on our own personal opinion, even if it doesn't amount to much.

There's only one business that can make money without advertising in the United States, and it's the U. S. Mint.

THE LITTLE CONMA
A minister received the following note from the wife of a man who had enlisted in the navy:

"Peter Bowers, having gone to sea, his wife desires the prayers of the congregation for his safety."
The minister hurriedly read the note and announced it in this manner:

"Peter Bowers, having gone to sea, his wife desires the prayers of the congregation for his safety."

You realize the value of reputation when you see what fool things a great man can do without seeming less great.

Some birds also think work is hell.

Our war is costing us about $6,443,548 an hour. That price looks pretty high, but there is no place to get a war cheaper.

ARRANGING SUN PORCH FOR WINTER

"I want to fix my sun porch for the winter. There are windows all around it in groups of five. How should these be treated?"—K. K.

Answer: Make your sun room as colorful as possible. You may have roller shades of patterned chintz and over draperies of a solid color, with a valance extending across the top of the group and side draperies at each end. Venetian blinds may, if you prefer, take the place of roller shades. Black net curtains are sometimes used, but will not give as much privacy as will shades or Venetian blinds.

If you use draperies, their colors should be repeated in the chair cushions and divan cover.

A few comfortable chairs, a table with books and magazines and a reading lamp will give your sun room a cozy aspect.

Question: I am married and have just completed by set of silverware. Please give me information about marking it. What initials should be placed thereon and does it make any difference on which side of the knife the marking is placed?—Helen S.

Answer: Silver obtained after marriage should be marked with the first letter of the husband's surname. That obtained before marriage should be marked with the bride's maiden initial. Since the sharp edge of the knife must be turned toward the plate when the table is set, the marking should be placed with this thought in mind.

Question: What should be done with gloves at a formal dinner? I say they should be removed with the wrap upon arrival. My friend disagrees with me. She says they should be worn to the table. Who is right?—Marie.

Answer: Always wear gloves to a formal dinner and remove them at the table. Never leave them on your arms, turning back the hands with your wrap.

African Natives Due For A Break
Will Benefit After War Has Ended
Reorganization Will Affect Them

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—What about post-war Africa?

It generally is agreed that the rest of the world will have to do a lot of reorganizing to get back upon a satisfactory peacetime basis. To say that it will need to reorganize to get back upon a satisfactory basis isn't quite correct, at that. If it gets into a satisfactory basis at all, it'll be doing it for the first time in history. The urgent necessity for reorganization is widely recognized, however, except as to the dark continent, which has pretty much escaped consideration until just now.

Belatedly, though, it's beginning to break a bit into the news, mainly through the activity of what's known as the Committee on Africa, under the chairmanship of Dr. Anson Phelps Stokes, as a detail of studies inspired by the Phelps Stokes Fund.

Apparently Africa's case attracted attention as a by-product of an analysis of President Roosevelt's and Winston Churchill's Atlantic Charter, drafted with more of a view to international relationships, after the present conflict, than ever has existed before.

Presumably F. D. R. and Winston didn't consider it necessary particularly to emphasize the inclusion of Africa's population with the rest of the globe's.

Subsequent discussion of plans for making the charter effective, furthermore, has pretty completely ignored the Africans. The Americas, Europe, Asia, the Australian continent and neighboring islands all have been taken into account, but Africa's been almost wholly overlooked until the Phelps-Stokes committee began speaking for its inhabitants very recently.

The committee seems unenthusiastic over the idea of setting up as a group of independent nationalities, frankly recognizing that the conflicting nationality system has been badly discredited of late.

Yet it opposes holding the Africans in a state of subjection to foreign rule. Self-government is its recommendation.

It seems well entitled to it, in honor as per the Atlantic Charter. It believes that they can manage their own affairs, more efficiently, prosperously and peaceably, locally.

What Noted People Say

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON — President Roosevelt refuses a captured Japanese battle flag and indicates it is unfit to touch. "I am not going to receive it, I don't think I want to touch it."

NEW YORK — James W. Wadsworth, representative from New York: "Let us not fear that a victorious American people will have lost their liberty when they have won this war. They are not the kind of people who, having fought to preserve liberty, will thereafter surrender it."

WASHINGTON — Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau asks a suffer tax bill: "We feel that there has just got to be more revenue and we feel emphatically that there will have to be enacted some kind of legislation as a deterrent on spending by the public and an incentive to save."

WASHINGTON — Secretary of State Cordell Hull: "We are confident that the military efforts of free people which have been the inevitable answer to brutal and predatory Japanese attacks upon peaceful populations will defeat and destroy the military caste that controls Japan."

In other words, it's small talk. It just happens that most lives are made up of many small things.

Heroes, patriotism, courage, sacrifice, loyalty, are all much better performed by persons who have had a good meal than by hungry ones.

So cooking breakfast, lunch and dinner is really a most important function in winning a war.

To talk about love in these hectic days may seem like piffle, but every soldier is a better fighter for having someone he loves to fight for.

Ask any officer whether his men don't go to battle with double zest if the mail from home arrives regularly.

After all, what are we fighting for? We are fighting so that we may once again be free to live as we want to live, to say what we want to say, to pray as we want to pray.

We want to work and earn our pay in peace.

And if we want to piffle, to twaddle and to gabble we don't want anyone to tell us not to.

So, dear reader, don't scoff at piffle.

Let us all be patriots and heroes now. But let us hope that when Victory is won we can all go back to piffing again.

You know what they say in Canada about their loss? "It was necessary to secure information vital to the United Nations."

That's all. They knew the probable price before they undertook the raid and they paid it. They're not whimpering. They're not moaning.

They lost another thousand men at Hong Kong and took it the same way. Could we?

Thought for the day: Brave Canada.

The Great Game Of Politics

The "System" Is Wrong

Washington, Sept. 19. THE ACCEPTANCE by the President of the Baruch rubber report and his prompt move to put its recommendations into effect encourage the hope that ultimately he may be prevailed upon to revise the whole war organization here along similar lines. The need is very great. It is the way to lessen the appalling bewilderment and incompetency. It is the way to win the war.

THE MOST trenchant of the Baruch recommendations was that all rubber matters be taken out of the hands of the four or five agencies that have been dealing with it and put under one rubber administrator with complete authority. That has now been done and in Mr. William M. Jeffers there is reason to believe a first-class man has been named. But even if he were a second-class man the mere fact that a single head administrator for the job had been created would be a big improvement.

That recommendation went straight to the heart of the trouble here. It insists upon the principle of the single-head administration system, which worked in the last war and undid the system of scattering authority in commissions and boards which the President has tried to make work in this war—but which does not work.

IT TOOK nearly eighteen months to get Mr. Roosevelt to name a single head for the War Production Board. But having finally approved this sound, tested and obviously common sense principle in the appointment of Mr. Donald Nelson, the President avoided the logical following steps. The result is divided authority, duplication, conflict and confusion. The silly rubber setup which the Baruch report scrapped was just one instance. There are numerous others. For example, the production of food and raw materials for clothing is under the Department of Agriculture. That department of Agriculture.

Looking At Life

—By Erich Brandeis

"How can you write all this piffle when there is a war going on which is so much more important than those little personal things?" writes a reader.

Well, madam, let us analyze this piffle business for a moment.

In case any of you don't know the meaning of the word "piffle," it means the same thing as "twaddle" and "twaddle" is synonymous with "gabble" which Webster defines as "to utter articulate sounds rapidly, such as geese."

In other words, it's small talk. It just happens that most lives are made up of many small things.

Heroes, patriotism, courage, sacrifice, loyalty, are all much better performed by persons who have had a good meal than by hungry ones.

So cooking breakfast, lunch and dinner is really a most important function in winning a war.

RAINY DAY
That gentle, quiet sort of rain
Which sometimes lasts the day
Taps at my roof and window pane
In such a friendly way.

And tired and worn by constant sun
And earth burned hard and brown,
'Tis good to see the rivers run
The gutters of the town.

'Tis good to see the gardens small
Turn blithe once more and gay
As many a tiny warfallow
Swoops ugliness away.

So, sensing all things fair renewed
In such a simple way,
I thank the Lord in gratitude
Who sends a rainy day.

Revival Enters Second Week At Bethel Church

MOYE AND SMITH

Interest is increasing as the second week of the revival effort at Bethel United Brethren church, Stanton avenue, gets under way.

Rev. Billie Smith, the evangelist, has been preaching on such subjects as "The Need of the Hour" and "Being Filled with the Holy Spirit."

Eddie Moye, song evangelist from Fremont, O., is offering special musical features at each service on the accordion and solo as well as vocal selections.

The church pastor, Rev. R. D. Bomer, states that services will continue every night at 7:30 o'clock, including tonight, through September 27. One of the newer and smaller churches in New Castle, Bethel church is fast becoming established in the city.

Church School Time Changed Youth Week At Nazarene Church

Trinity Episcopal Church Announces Church School Course For Year

Trinity Episcopal church school begins Sunday morning, September 20, at 9:45 and ends exactly at 10:45 o'clock. The hour has been changed from 9:30 to 9:45 so that it will be more convenient for those who wish to remain for church to shorten the waiting period between the church school and regular church service. The assembly for church school will be in the church.

The uniform course of study for the entire church school this year is "God in the Old Testament and in Our Present Day."

Teachers of the school will meet together once a month at the regular scheduled time to consider the next four or five lessons to be taught. One of the main efforts of the Forward in Service Council of the church is to increase efficiency of the teaching staff and the attendance of the church school.

Plan Conference On September 27

A joint Adult and Administrative Conference will be held at the First Baptist church, this city, Sunday afternoon, September 27, at 2:45 p. m., and is under the auspices of the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association. C. C. McKibben, Adult Superintendent, and Robert L. Meermans, Administrative Superintendent.

The inspirational message will be given by Rev. B. R. McKnight, the newly assigned minister to the First Methodist church of this city, and discussion periods with leaders will consider such problems as, "How can the Sunday school keep contact with members in the armed forces of this country?" How can an adequate number of qualified or trained teachers be provided to take care of present teaching needs, and "What part of the United Christian Education Advance may be best promoted in our Sunday Schools?"

Reception At Epworth Sunday

Rev. William A. Thornton and Mrs. Thornton, together with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Weide, will tender a reception to members of the church school and congregation of Epworth Methodist church on Sunday morning.

Mr. Thornton celebrates his birthday and also the anniversary of his assignment to Epworth church on Sunday and begins the fourth year of his pastorate.

Mr. Weide is superintendent of the church school and desires to welcome back for the fall and winter work all officers, teachers and scholars of the school. The reception will take place in the North room fifteen minutes before the opening of the Sunday school and fifteen minutes before the church service.

Harvest home services will be held at both the morning services at St. Paul's Lutheran church, North Jefferson and Grant streets, the Rev. A. M. Stump, pastor. Members and friends are to bring jarred fruits, etc., and non-perishable things for the Old People's Home at Zelienople and the Passavant Epileptic Home at Rochester, Pa. These institutions need the churches' support now more than ever, due to war conditions and rationing.

Ministers To Meet Monday

Organization Meeting Of Ministerial Association In Presbyterian Church

Annual election of officers will take place when members of the New Ministerial Association have their first fall meeting Monday morning, September 21, at 10:30 o'clock in the First Presbyterian church. Dr. J. J. McIlvaine will be pastor-host.

At this organization meeting, reports of all regular and special committees will be heard, including the nominating committee. Members of the nominating committee are Revs. A. M. Stump, N. A. White and Sidney K. Bliss.

Ministers who have recently come to the city and those who have not been regularly attending meetings of the association are being invited to attend this meeting.

Sunday Schools To Name Delegates

The matter of delegates to the 80th Annual Convention of the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association which is to be held at Uniontown, Pa., October 7th, 8th and 9th will be taken up by a number of the Sunday schools tomorrow.

The 8 districts comprising the County Sunday School Association, have been given quotas of delegates, and if these quotas are met Lawrence County will have its usual splendid delegation. The approximate cost of a delegate including transportation, registration, and lodging and meals while there is $12.50, and this amount so expended makes a good investment in Christian Education which will be reflected in more efficient Sunday Schools for the coming year.

Dr. McKnight will be moving to New Castle some time next week. Rev. W. V. McLean, retiring pastor of First Methodist church, will preach at his new charge in Brookville on Sunday.

NEW PASTOR TO PREACH SUNDAY AT TWO CHURCHES

Rev. Everett Spring, the newly appointed pastor at Edenburg and Hillsville Methodist churches, will preach this Sunday, September 20, at 10 a. m.

Reopen Probe Of Girl Murder At Kingston, Pa.

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Sept. 19 — A three-way investigation of the brutal murder of Margaret Martin, Kingston, in 1938 was pressed today by State Motor police, the Federal Bureau of Investigation and military authorities.

Scranton police have detained Orban Taylor, of New York, who told authorities he murdered the 21-year-old stenographer in December, 1938. He later repudiated his "confession" when asked how he disposed of the victim's clothing. Miss Martin's nude body was found in the icy waters of Keedersburg creek, Wyoming county, by a trapper. Her clothes never were recovered.

Taylor, who said he lived in Wilkes-Barre at the time of the crime, told police he had been dishonorably discharged from the army after serving a term in military prison at Ft. Jay, N. Y. He also confessed several robberies and a stabbing in New York and defrauding Philadelphia hotels.

Miss Martin was lured from her home by a "fake" telephone call promising her a job. She left her home, walked approximately 250 yards to a street corner where she was to meet the man who wished to employ her and never was seen alive again.

News Briefs

From City Hall

Police court was crowded today when Mayor Charles B. Mayne held hearings. Joseph Crouch, city, R. D. 2, was ordered turned over to an alderman on a charge of driving a motor car while drunk. He was arrested by city police in Beaver street. A woman who gave the name of "Virginia Rose" was fined $25.00, on a charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct in South Mercer street last night. Forfeits of John Johnson, colored and "Ernest Allison," were confiscated. Neither appeared in court. They had a fight at Taggart field last night. According to the report Johnson "picked on" Allison.

Patrolman Dan Williams didn't lose any time cleaning alleged panhandlers out of South Jefferson street district this morning. He reported for work at eight a. m. and at nine a. m. four were in jail on a charge of panhandling. Upon his promise to return to Ambridge where he has a job, one's sentence was suspended. The others were sent to jail for 10 days.

Harry Haybarger, Rigby, reported to police last night that his Ford auto, Pennsylvania license P5065 was stolen from South Jefferson street. Cleto Colosant, Youngstown reported his Ford was stolen from Taggart stadium vicinity while he was at the football game.

John Termini was the name of a motorist who paid a fine of $10 for speeding an auto here yesterday.

Policeman Budd Fleeger, city force, today reported that while in Mt. Jackson vicinity he discovered that many of the trees in that section are being destroyed by tent caterpillars and believes something should be done to eradicate the destruction.

BREAK FOR BRITISHERS

(International News Service)
LONDON—Believe it or not, Americans, you are more heavily rationed than are we residents of Britain.

At least in sugar. During August

Britishers have been allowed an extra pound of sugar "for the purpose of jam making" by the ministry of food.

It means that sugar-starved Britons had two teaspoons of sugar in their tea and coffee during the summer.

'Who's Who' At Westminster

Annual Get Acquainted Social Function For Students Tonight

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Sept. 19.—All-College "Who's Who", annual social affair at Westminster College when all freshmen and new students have an opportunity to get acquainted with upperclassmen, will be held this evening at 8:30 in the college gym.

The second of the get-acquainted gatherings of the opening week of the school year, the All-College "Who's Who" follows the annual Freshman "Who's Who" held in the gym last Saturday evening.

Sponsored by the college YVCA and YNCA groups, the evening's entertainment will be in charge of R. C. Stall, attached to the Central YMCA of Pittsburgh.

All regular college classes got under way Wednesday of this week and will follow the regular schedule. Morning chapel and devotional assemblies are held every day at 9:30 under the direction of President Robert F. Galbreath.

First issue of "The Holcad," campus weekly newspaper, will make its appearance next Friday, Sept. 26.

Officers and old members of campus clubs, honorary fraternities, and societies will be meeting throughout the coming week to plan schedules of activities for the coming year.

than it can be done from the outside.

It also reckons that it's desirable to end foreign countries' quarrelling between themselves over their respective African colonies.

Then there's another item—of lively interest here in the U. S. A. The dark races have been coming into their own.

The yellow bunch (the Mongolians) have scored. The Chinese are our allies. The Japs are not, but we acknowledge 'em as formidable. The browns (Malays), in India, aren't to be sneezed at. They not only fight but likewise are intellectual and spiritual cusses.

Now, wouldn't Ethiopians, being equally well worth while human beings if given a chance, score as well as any of the rest of us?

Off to Bad Start
They got a bad start and have remained squelched, but—as to futurity?

I've already written a story to the effect that a racial amalgamation was in progress in Brazil, where you couldn't tell the races apart, along the dividing line.

Far be it from me to advocate a mixture. I'm speaking only of eternity.

The Phelps-Stokes folk are what are known as "white-dominated".

The Negroes have been sat on as the yellows and browns never have been in. The difference may have been accidental. Perhaps the black race were militarily inferior—and maybe intellectually so, also.

And yet, they ought to have GRABBED their even break, but it seems they got a bad start accidentally.

If the colonial natives want independence, now's the time for 'em to bid for it.

And if American blacks want a mother country, it's available.

The Phelps-Stokes committee's boosting for it.

Rabbi Leo E. Turitz Announces Yom Kippur Services For Temple

Rabbi Leo E. Turitz has announced the following services at Temple Israel in observance of Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement: Sunday, September 20, 7:30 p. m., sermon, "The Recurring Refrain"; Monday, September 21, 9:30 a. m., sermon, "The Art of Life," memorial services, 3 p. m.

Yom Kippur, holiest day in the Jewish year, begins Sunday evening which is the eve of the tenth day of the month Tishra on the Jewish calendar and is concluded at sunset the following day.

It is a day of atonement and fasting, a time for the individual to confess and repent his sins, and is devoted entirely to prayer and meditation in the synagogue. A memorial service for the dead in the afternoon and the blowing of the shofar, the ram's horn, at the close of the day are parts of the synagogue service. The day is ushered in at the beginning of the evening service by a prayer, Kol Nidrei, and concludes with a service called "The closing of the gates."

Great Gaps In German Ranks Letter Declares

(International News Service)
LONDON, Sept. 19 — A gloomy, disillusioned account of bloody fighting and enormous German losses in the battle for Stalingrad was given in a letter from a Nazi eyewitness of the fighting to the newspaper Boersen Zeitung, according to a Geneva dispatch to the London Daily Mail.

"Big gaps are beginning to show in our ranks," wrote the German presumably a Nazi soldier.

"In the Don river bend are the graves of countless German heroes. Death no longer affects our soldiers. Instead it seems them in place in all ranks."

"Soviet shells cut great swathes along our worn-out infantry ranks. Human beings cannot support such a hell much longer."

Air Raid Calls To Be Limited

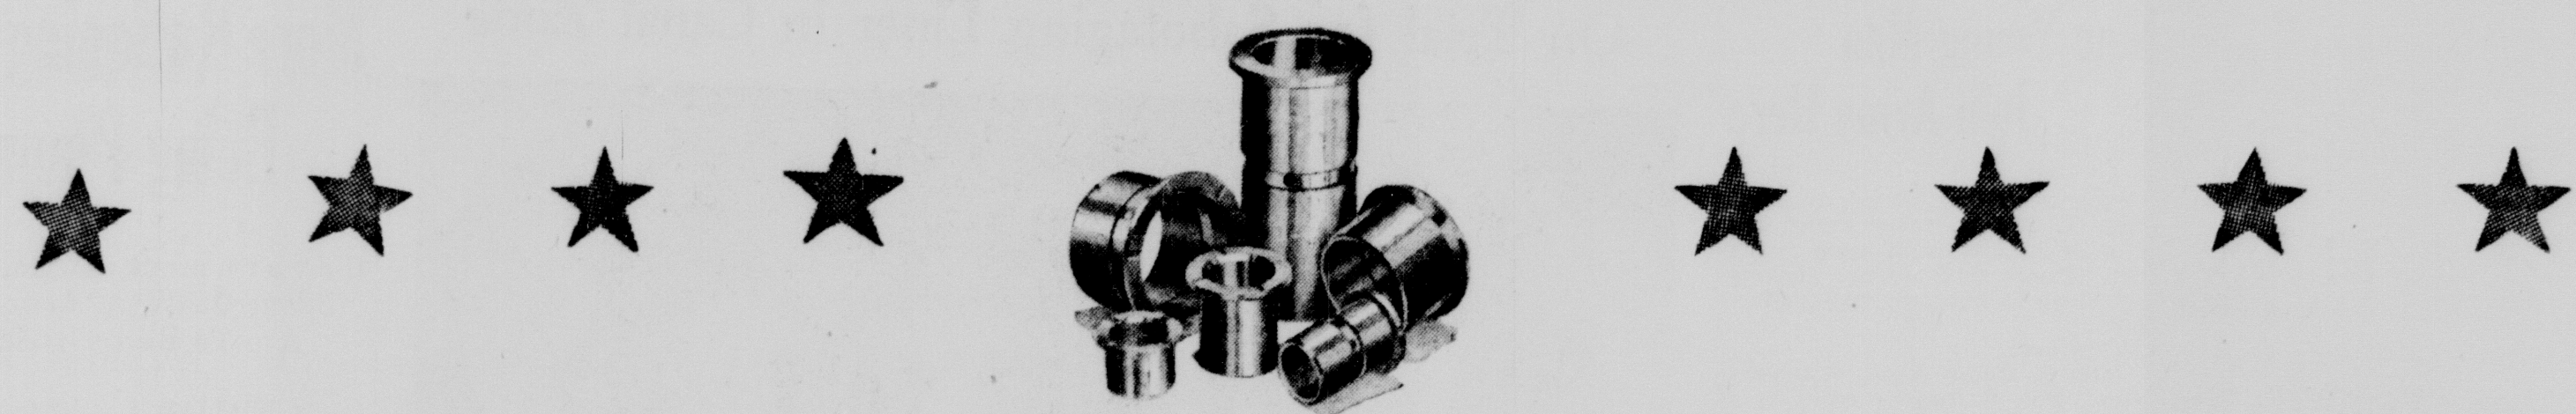

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 19 — Warning that telephone facilities are being overburdened by excessive "yellow" and "blue" warnings from control centers to key points, Dr. C. A. Marts, executive director of the State Council of Defense, said yesterday in Harrisburg the rank and file of OCD volunteers should receive no warning other than the actual siren alert.

Dr. Marts added the confidential nature of the signals was being violated by the advance calling of certain groups.

At the same time, State Deputy Attorney General Hamilton Adams issued an opinion indirectly upholding the contested McKeesport city ordinance which calls for a maximum fine of $500 for blackout violation. The ordinance has been called unconstitutional by the former State Senator William D. Mansfield.

MAN STRUCK BY AUTO
Bert J. Johnson, of 1024 Glenn avenue, was treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital at 9:50 o'clock, Friday night, for lacerations of the face, received when he was struck by an auto driven by George Cameron, of R. F. D. 5, Johnson, it is stated, stepped off the curb directly in front of Cameron's car, and was knocked to the street.

Freedom doesn't consist in exercising certain rights, but only in knowing you could do it.

A WAR-PRODUCTION REPORT

To the People of New Castle and Vicinity

JOHNSON BRONZE CO.

Before Pearl Harbor

Long before Hitler's hordes streamed into Poland, the products of Johnson Bronze were being tested for use in armament. Before the fall of France, many were adopted for vital applications in various types of equipment. Today, every item produced at Johnson Bronze is, in one way or another, directly connected with the war effort.

The transition from normal peace time production to all out effort for Victory, was not a difficult task. Some industries faced the necessity of manufacturing a new product entirely. Car manufacturers turned to tanks and planes; a manufacturer of musical instruments turned to cartridges; a rubber company changed to gas masks. Not so at Johnson Bronze. Here our nation found a group of skilled workmen, specialized equipment, years of priceless experience immediately ready to serve. The standard of quality that had so firmly established Johnson Bronze as a leader in industry was now ready for the supreme test on the field of action.

From January to June

An indication of the scope of this war effort can be gained from the records. In the first six months more than 48,000,000 pieces were produced. Most of these were produced for actual armament. Some went to the machine tool industry to equip armament producing machines. Part of them filled the maintenance requirements of plants wholly converted to war work. All were destined to fill some important role in the fight.

The average citizen thinks of mechanized warfare as so many tanks . . . so many planes . . . so many guns. The employee of Johnson Bronze takes a different view. When he reads of the bombing trips over Germany, he wonders how many Johnson Bearings are in there performing. When he reads of the exploits of our tanks in Libya, he wonders if the bearings he produced were in the thick of it. In the ships at sea . . . the army trucks . . . the submarines . . . he visions his work filling an indispensable role.

In the Air

Practically every manufacturer of aircraft depends on Johnson Bronze in one way or another for part of their sleeve bearing requirements. Ride along with a giant Douglas Bomber such as the B-19 and you go with plenty of Johnson Bearings. The engines, the controls, the instruments, the bomb releases—all are Johnson equipped. The same is true of our fighter squadrons . . . our trainer planes . . . our "grasshopper" fleet. Few parts require the exacting treatment accorded aircraft bearings. Here is a prime example of where specialized training . . . a fine degree of skill and judgment . . . a strict adherence to established standards are of invaluable assistance to our government. Our nation needed this particular type of ability. They found it at Johnson Bronze.

On Land

In normal times, Johnson employees produced parts for your pleasure car . . . for the grocer's truck . . . the farmer's tractor . . . the contractor's equipment. Rugged bearings these, with a fine capacity for punishment and severe service. Now the skill and ability to produce this type of peace time product proves ideal for the work involved in making tanks, half tracs, jeeps, gun carriages and the like. It simply required a new set of prints, a change in tolerance, perhaps a slight change in alloy. But the men knew how, the men were willing and the work proceeded without delay.

At Sea

Visit our navy in the Pacific . . . ride along on a convoy to England or Russia and you can travel with Johnson Bearings. Hidden away in the mighty diesels of our battleships and destroyers are Johnson bearings delivering a full measure of power. The mammoth guns that protect the merchant ships, turn easier with Johnson bearings. Many other important parts operate easier . . . longer and more efficiently because of the parts our men are able to produce.

At Home

It's one thing to work for Victory . . . another to invest in it. Johnson Bronze employees buy their bonds through the pay roll deduction plan. Their loyalty in this respect enabled their company to be among the first to report 100% participation. Many are today investing over 10% of their pay in bonds. The management of Johnson Bronze takes pardonable pride in the manner in which the employees are cooperating to help win the war. This message is a salute to them who serve their country in such an excellent manner. Although their uniforms have no medals nor indication of rank . . . they are as vital to victory as the man in the front line trench.

THROW YOUR SCRAP INTO THE FIGHT!

ferent and independent agencies deal with metals, but prices of metals and priorities are outside the field of the commodity directors. Three or four agencies deal with internal transportation. Three or four deal with labor administration. All the way through, the principle of the single head administration is avoided and the system which was evolved out of the last war, not only here but in every other belligerent nation, ignored. Yet that is the system which is in operation now in England, Canada, Russia and Germany. It is the only system by which the resources of a nation can be effectively mobilized for war. It is the only system that makes sense.

ferent and independent agencies deal with metals, but prices of metals and priorities are outside the field of the commodity directors. Three or four agencies deal with internal transportation. Three or four deal with labor administration. All the way through, the principle of the single head administration is avoided and the system which was evolved out of the last war, not only here but in every other belligerent nation, ignored. Yet that is the system which is in operation now in England, Canada, Russia and Germany. It is the only system by which the resources of a nation can be effectively mobilized for war. It is the only system that makes sense.

IN THE last war there were half a dozen other administrators—for war industries, for fuel, for food, for transportation, for ships. But, there were under these major administrators many minor administrators—for oil, for coal, for steel, for grain, for sugar, for labor, etc. In every country, including our own, boards, committees and commissions proved a failure, except when their function was advisory under an administrator. Last time every administrator had control of personnel, with power to hire and fire, the result being that the organization never reached absurdly swollen and unmanageable proportions. This is exactly what the Baruch committee's rubber administrator recommendation proposed—a minor administrator with complete power, under a major administrator.

WHAT IS terribly needed in Washington is a redistribution and consolidation of functions under major administrators, who would form, as they did last time, a National War Council, to sit daily with the President and cooperate with each other instead of conflicting. Experience has proved that this system, which President Wilson did not adopt until 1917, was effective. Experience has proved that the system under which we are now operating—if it can be called a system—is wasteful and ineffectual.

IT IS certain that several times the President has been upon the brink of adopting the tested system of major administrators, which has been steadily urged upon him for nearly two years. One thing that has stopped him has been the opposition of some of his New Deal aides who argued that this would let businessmen run the war. Another thing was that it would involve the elimination of a considerable number of existing agencies and the removal from the pay roll of a large number of men and women who now have jobs here. But, no more healthful than that possibly could happen. That would help tremendously even if he did not revise his "system."

Not even a good system could function well so heavily overmanned. A reduction in personnel is a basic requirement.

Library Branch To Be Open Extra Hour

Closing hours of the Southside branch of the New Castle Free public library will be extended from 8 p. m. to 9 p. m. Wednesday evenings. This was decided on the recommendation of the librarian, at the monthly meeting of the Board of Trustees of the library.

For nearly a year 8 p. m. has been the Wednesday evening closing hour of the Southside library branch, and the time has been extended in the expectation that more adults will be able to make use of the branch library facilities. Saturday hours for this branch remain as before, 9 a. m. to 6 p. m.

A. S. A. MEETING AT HICE HOME

New Castle Chapter, A. S. A., met in the home of Miss Margaret Hice, 212 East Wallace avenue, Thursday evening, Mrs. Kathleen Shuttleworth Woodring was welcomed as a new member of the group.

After a period of games, lunch was served by the hostess. The group will meet again on October 15.

Bond Buyers To Get Tickets To Wake Isle Film

Purchasers Next Week Will Be Only Ones To See Premiere Showing Of Film

UNDER AUSPICES OF MARINE POST

Many folks have been wondering about how they could get to see the premiere showing of Wake Isle, that epic picture made by Paramount Pictures from the thrilling defense of this Pacific Island by the United States Marines, and the committee today announced that folks who purchase bonds during the coming week at the local theaters will be the privileged ones.

Starting Monday, September 21, every buyer of a bond at the local theaters will be given a complimentary showing to the premiere of the film on Monday evening, September 28 at the Penn Theater.

The picture comes here under the auspices of the Gunner Sgt. Harry T. Burns Post, Marine Corps League, on the evening of September 28, and there will be but one showing at 10 o'clock that evening. The doors will open at 9 o'clock, and a booth will be open in the theater for late purchasers of bonds on that evening.

It is hoped to have the spacious Penn Theater packed to the doors on this evening, for every bond sold is helping to buy the equipment and fighting weapons needed by the boys at the front, and as every one knows, this month is "Salute to Our Heroes Month," when it is hoped that a bond will be bought for "Every Mother's Son" in the service. It is a big order, but the theaters who have charge of this month's campaign are doing their part.

Monday evening, the American Legion Cadet band, directed by George Moore, will be out in uniform to serenade each theater, and will be accompanied by the Legion Post's color guard, Boy Scout color guard, and others in the parade which will travel over the city to the different theaters.

Wednesday night, there will be two bantam cars, more popularly known as "jeeps," with a scout car, donated for a parade that evening by the 104th Artillery.

We are smart only in spots. We spend millions to fight other diseases, yet tolerate the rawweed that cripples tens of thousands.

"A murder trial is not a spectacle," says a judge. No? How do you keep anything from being a spectacle when there are spectators?

British Sub Reported Lost

(International News Service)
LONDON, Sept. 19.—The British submarine Uge is overdue and must be considered lost, it was announced today. The next of kin of the officers and crew have been notified, the announcement said.

(The Uge is listed in Jane's fighting ships as displacing 730 tons, with a complement of 27. It belonged to the Ursula class of undersea craft.)

SURPRISES ARE SURE FOR NAZIS ASSERTS BRAZIL
(International News Service)
RIO DE JANEIRO, Sept. 19.—Brazilian officials added nothing today to the cryptic statement of Foreign Minister Oswaldo Aranha that "surprises will await" any Germans attempting to land on Brazilian territory.

"They may land but they will never leave," the foreign minister added. "If they escape our soldiers they will not escape our climate."

Aranha's statement was made in a press conference in which he reviewed the success of Brazilian-American naval patrols in reducing the Axis submarine menace off the South American Atlantic coast. He expressed the conviction that Germany would shortly attempt some kind of raid on Brazilian territory "to build up her waning morale."

STAMPS TO TIN CANS
(International News Service)
FAIRHAVEN, Mass.—Edith Ruth Hinton, seven years old, one of Fairhaven's youngest collectors of stamps and newspapers, has added tin can collecting to her list of hobbies.

Only instead of holding on to them, she gathers the tins from the neighbors, then turns them over to the salvage committee.

Two Trainmen Killed In Wreck

(International News Service)
JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Sept. 19.—Two Bellmore & Ohio trainmen were killed and three others were injured, two seriously, early today when a freight locomotive exploded at Listie, in nearby Somerset county.

Those dead were identified as Clarence Ohler, 30, of Sand Patch, and John Berkley, 52, of Somerset. Ohler died of scald burns en route to the hospital, while Berkley's body was found 500 feet from the scene of the explosion.

Badly injured were Burdine Wilson, 36, of Berlin, and Arthur Hartzell, 24, of Somerset, the latter a bridegroom of only three weeks. Jacob Cook, Meyersdale, escaped with only minor burns and bruises. Wilson and Hartzell were hospitalized in Somerset with scald burns.

The explosion occurred while two locomotives were hauling a load of coal. The second engine blew up first, and the force of the impact caused the first engine to explode also. The second engine's boiler was found 1,000 feet away from the scene.

Boy Falls Six Stories And Lives
(International News Service)
DETROIT, Sept. 19.—Ten year old Raymond Roberts was in receiving hospital today suffering from a broken leg and numerous bruises but doctors and nurses marvelled that he was even alive.

He incurred his injuries when he fell 60 feet—six stories—while trying to jump from the roof of one apartment building to another building. He told authorities that he was running away from a bigger boy who had threatened to hit him.

"I don't remember much about the fall," he said. "I saw the window going by and I kept turning over and over. I thought I was never going to land. I don't remember hitting the ground, or anything until I was in the hospital."

BRITAIN SETS UP AID PROGRAM FOR 'DEAD END KIDS'
(International News Service)
LONDON.—Britain is to have a new winter program to save local "Dead End Kids" and thus stem the flood of child crime which is sweeping the country.

Adults are to be shown how to handle and take care of truant and pilferers. Already the first course, organized by the Mental Health Emergency Committee and open to wardens and matrons of hostels for unfortunates, has been completed at Exeter.

Leading psychiatrists and three well-known women psychologists answered hundreds of questions put to them by matrons and wardens.

From this they gathered the three most urgent problems are: Contacting parents who are no longer interested in their children; correcting thieves; and stopping truant and runaways.

More dangerous than the saboteur is the official who won't make decisions because he is afraid of being wrong.

More Rationing Being Planned

Government Authorities Silent On What Articles Are To Be Included

By WILLIAM L. UMSTEAD
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—The office of price administration today drafted plans to ration eight more every-day commodities, including clothing.

By the end of the first three months of 1943, it was predicted, Americans will be forced to carry rationing coupons for more than 10 different articles.

Sugar and gasoline already are being doled out through the coupon system, and fuel oil and meat are next on the list.

The OPA is carefully guarding the names of articles which are to be rationed, to prevent panic buying by the public. However, it is printing four "all purpose" coupon rationing book and 150,000 copies of the first one will be ready for distribution shortly before Christmas. Through the books, it was reported, the OPA will be able to ration eight articles for six months each, and by that time new ration books can be printed.

Sergeant And Dog Meet A Skunk—With Sad Results
(International News Service)
SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—A skunk was caught red handed in the boiler room at the Third Repair Squadron barracks, Duncan Field, San Antonio, by Poochie, unofficial mascot at the barracks.
Poochie snapped the skunk—a mistake.
A sergeant, in charge of the boiler room, seeing Poochie back away, hit the skunk with a stick—also an error.
Now the sergeant and his pet dog are undergoing the slow, but necessary, process of deodorizing themselves—far, away from the other fellows.

Trio From County Enroll As Naval Aviation Cadets

Will Begin Training As Future
Naval Fliers Shortly, Naval Officers State

Three young Lawrence county men, two from New Castle and one from Ellwood City, will begin their preliminary training soon in the hope of becoming Navy fliers.

They are Robert Bishop, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bishop, of 111 Pine street; William Neff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Neff, of 317 East Sheridan avenue; and Chester Swick, of Ellwood City.

The three, with 26 others, were sworn in at the navy procurement office in Pittsburgh Thursday, and expect to begin their training about November 1.

Duff Appalled At Lethargy In India

Local Man, Vice Consul At Calcutta, Tells Of Conditions
In Hot Spot

In a letter received by his father, Walter W. Duff, of 210 East Leaseway avenue, yesterday, William W. Duff, United States vice consul at Calcutta, India, states that he is appalled at the lethargy shown in India, in spite of the fact that Japan seems poised for an invasion of that land any moment.

Young Duff has just returned to his duties at the consulate after spending a month in the hospital. India, at the present time, is one of the hottest spots in the war zone. With Gandhi and his followers instituting a civil disobedience program, anything can happen in India at a moment's notice.

Pool Facilities Six Bus Lines Are Ordered

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—The Office of Defense Transportation on Friday issued a special order requiring six bus companies operating between Harrisburg, Pa., and New York City to pool facilities.

The order provided for staggered schedules, interchange of tickets, joint use of terminals where it is practical and cancellation of excursion fares. The six companies effected are:

Alma Lines Inc., Edward Motor Transit Co., Frank Martz Coach Co., Jersey Central Transportation Co., Penn. Greyhound Lines, and the Reading Transportation Co.

Daily Dozen

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

With meat rationing, people will highly regard vegetables. Vegetables help build, protect and regulate the body. They do not supply all the body requirements. But they do fulfill certain dietary needs. Calcium is provided by lettuce, turnips, carrots and dried beans. Dried peas and beans are a good source of protein. Leafy vegetables offer a good portion of essential iron. We get much of our vitamin supply from vegetables. Vegetables do not have value as food for body fuel and energy. Their function is to protect and encourage good health. Vegetables are low in calories and high in roughage. A well-balanced diet recognizes the value of vegetables.

Marine Recruiter Here Urges Youths To Join Service

Marines Are Needed And New Castle Record Is Falling, Dean Says

HOPES ALSO TO SECURE CLASS 4 MEN

Staff Sergeant John L. Dean, officer in charge of the New Castle recruiting office for the Marines, sent out an appeal today for more Marines.

"The Marines are fighting day and night. We need thousands of men. New Castle is falling down on the job. Our enlistments are low. Other stations are enlisting on an average of 50 men per month while the New Castle office has dropped from an average of 60 per month to less than thirty."

"It is very seldom that the Marines ask for help, but right now we are asking for more applicants. Many men believe that they have to be a giant to enlist in the Marines. You do not. Dean said, "If you are 17 years of age, 5 feet 4 inches tall and weigh 110 pounds you can pass the examination for the Marines." The Marines have lowered their standards on the eyes, it is now 15-20 instead of 20-20. Also the teeth requirements have been lowered. A man who has 18 sound teeth with two opposing mo-

STRIKE THREAT AVERTED

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 19.—The threat of a paralyzing work stoppage in the war-vital aluminum industry was ended today with the announcement that representatives of the CIO-Aluminum workers of America have agreed to adhere to the provisions of the War Labor Board's directive which refused them a $1-a-day wage increase.

The agreement was announced late last night following a closed conference with officials of the Aluminum company of America in Pittsburgh. The decision will be submitted to the various locals of the union for ratification.

New Pastor At Church Sunday

Rev. Warren A. Bugbee Begins His Pastorate At The Mahoning Methodist Church

On Sunday morning, Rev. Warren A. Bugbee will begin his pastorate at the Mahoning Methodist church.

Rev. Bugbee, formerly pastor of the Hurlbert Memorial Methodist church, Chautauque, was assigned to the pastorate of the Mahoning Methodist church by the district conference at Meadville, last week.

Rev. Bugbee was pastor of the Chautauque church for five years. The conference assigned Rev. D. J. Blasdel, the former pastor, to the Chautauque Methodist church pastorate, commencing Sunday.

Rev. Blasdel was pastor of the local church for four years.

Sunday services will be as follows: Sunday school at 9:45 a. m., Q. E. Davy, superintendent. 11 o'clock, morning worship, sermon by the pastor, Rev. Warren A. Bugbee. There will be no evening service.

Farewell Party For Blasdel Family

Mahoning Methodist Congregation Gives Farewell To Retiring Pastor And Family

At the Mahoning Methodist church, Friday evening, a farewell party was given by the congregation and friends, in honor of Rev. D. J. Blasdel and family, who are leaving for Chautauque, New York.

Rev. Blasdel begins his pastorate at the Hurlbert Memorial church, there Sunday morning, having been assigned to that church by the District Conference at Meadville, a week ago.

An interesting program, arranged by Mrs. Ralph Pearce and Mrs. Wendell McClurg was given, in which the following took part: Priscilla Phillips, Maxine Taylor, Myrna Pearce, Ruth Ann Daniels, Robert Park and Walter Evans.

Following the program, the group retired to the church dining room, where places were laid for over 100 persons, who enjoyed a delicious lunch.

Henry Hamilton was toastmaster of the evening. He called upon a number of members of the congregation who spoke kind words of farewell to Rev. Blasdel and family. Rev. Blasdel graciously responded.

Special guests were Rev. John E. Myers, Jr., of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church, and Rev. Clyde Roland, of the Madison Avenue Christian church, both of whom gave appropriate farewell remarks.

During the social period, Miss Alma Wolverton, Methodist Deaconess, presented Mrs. Blasdel with a parting gift, on behalf of members of the McCoy Bible Class, of which she was a member.

The dining room committee was Mrs. Ralph Sowden and Mrs. P. E. Flowers. Kitchen committee, Mrs. Chester Johnson, Mrs. George Kutz, Mrs. William Moss, Mrs. Elmer Mauck, Mrs. John Phillips.

AUXILIARY FIREMEN MEET MONDAY NIGHT

There will be a meeting of the Auxiliary Firemen squad Monday evening at 8 in the Seventh Ward engine house.

OCD NOTES

Activities Of O. C. D. Workers Are Outlined In This Column

Certified air raid wardens of the first precinct of the eighth ward will meet at eight p. m. at the Blount residence, 807 South Jefferson street.

PURPOSE—TO HELP

Chief Air Raid Warden Frank Sargent has notified this column that, beginning next week, the names of additional persons who have qualified and been accepted as OCD workers will be available for publication. In addition, it might be stated that post commanders and others in charge of respective groups may use these columns to tell progress of their individual sections. The items may be addressed OCD Column, New Castle News. The writer reserves the privilege of "boiling down" any item or referring it to the OCD, if in doubt as to its authenticity. With war on and the OCD necessary, the purpose of this column is to assist in carrying on the work of the OCD.

MEET MONDAY NIGHT

Air raid wardens who have been certified in the first precinct of the eighth ward will convene at eight p. m. Monday in the Blount residence, 807 South Jefferson street. While writing of the eighth ward, it was stated Friday that more auxiliary police from that section could be serviceable. The chief air raid warden stated this morning that next week's meetings will be held at the same time, date and place as were held this week.

Office of Civilian Defense, Washington, D. C., has notified City OCD Director D. O. Davies the procedure to be followed by persons who assemble in groups, such as tonight at Taggart stadium, should a black-out occur.

People assembled shall remain in place, under control of ushers or police. Suitable measures should be taken in advance to exercise such control.

Lights should be extinguished. Start the people singing, if necessary.

Do not attempt to start to disperse the assemblage or even make an effort to have a portion of such assemblage seek shelter, such an attempt would possibly create a panic.

Use the public address system to keep the people interested, in place, and realizing that their best chance is to remain quiet and resolute.

The ushers should be trained to act as wardens for the structure, especially to deal promptly and effectively with any persons who become hysterical. It might be well at this time for football officials to consider this.

Request physicians and nurses in the assemblage to report to a central point where first aid facilities would be available.

It is to be remembered that, if people leave the structure, they will be sent from the streets in any case, should an air raid be in progress. By all means, it is to be desired that no effort at dispersal be undertaken.

YOU WOMEN WHO SUFFER FROM HOT FLASHES

If you suffer from hot flashes, dizziness, distress of "irregularities," are weak, nervous—due to the functional "middle-age" period in a woman's life—try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It's helped thousands upon thousands of women to relieve such annoying symptoms. Follow label directions. Pinkham's Compound is worth trying!

THE next time you light a match

... stop and think of the havoc a tiny flame could cause if it got beyond control! It could destroy your house and everything in it. Some things you could replace, but others—never.

Take no chances with fire. Keep your valuables in a safe deposit box. Rates are very low.
